Joe Sowinski – Keyboards, Guitar, Vocals

Joe's musical versatility on multiple instruments along with his strong vocals contributes greatly to the bands unique sound.

Joe was heavily influenced by the British invasion bands of the 60's. His greatest influences have been the Rascals, Rare Earth, 3 Dog Night, and Bill Dogget. Of course no group or individual has more impact on Joe than the Beatles. Through the years there has been debate over just who the 5th Beatle actually was....but we have the inside scoop...and real proof that it was actually Joe Sowinski.

All seriousness aside, the Kodak moments are many but he says that it was a real special moment to actually meet Mike Smith of the Dave Clark 5 and have the opportunity to sing the Hit Song "Bits and Pieces" with him....and he has the proof!

Joe's former bands include:

- Banana Band
- Take it and Go
- Sweeter Sound
